

For Casey, all systems are go! After winning a spot on the swim team, she's also a reporter for the school newspaper and making memories with the perfect boyfriend! But as history warns, life gets messy. Even the best laid plans fall apart, sometimes in the blink of an eye.

Will Casey and Ben's relationship deepen, or become just another casualty of circumstances they can't control? Is a high school romance even worth it, when most don't survive past graduation?

Join Casey as she chooses how her story will be written, taking her place in history, and as she learns what true love- and faith - really look like.

"Making History" is the fifth book in the High School 101 series.
